THE POWER TO ELIMINATE TEEN BEDWETTING QUICKLY AND QUIETLY

Untreated, your teen's chance of outgrowing bedwetting is just 14% each year. Most bedwetters are simply deep sleepers who don't notice their bladder fullness like the rest of us do. Just 4% of bedwetters have an underlying physical problem, but you should check with you doctor to rule that out.

So then what treatment options do you have? Drugs that unnaturally make your teen retain excess water are no solution, because the child never learns to recognize bladder fullness.

Bedwetting alarms have been proven effective in numerous clinical studies. But it's tough to stay with the program when your alarm wakes everyone in the house except the bedwetter.

The Night Hawk is different. It's silent. And it's wireless. And quite simply, it teaches your teen to respond normally to bladder fullness like the rest of us do. How? The Night Hawk uses a mechanical vibration, so it's easily felt, but not heard. At the first sign of wetness, the silent alarm responds, waking your teen quickly so he or she learns to respond to bladder fullness. So kids learn to get up, or just hold it until morning.

Unlike imitation vibrate alarms, the Night Hawk's vibration is powerful, so it wakes your teen quickly. And unlike the imitators, it cycles on and off every ten seconds so it can't lull your teen back to sleep. That's why the Night Hawk money back guarantee doesn't vaporize as soon as your teen uses the alarm! Night Hawk has three times the vibrate power of our kid's alarm, the Potty Pager, and it has thirty times the power of the other guys' alarm.

Actual Size

The Night Hawk is 100% safe, used as directed. And just 4% of our customers report that their bedwetters sleep through the Night Hawk vibrate alarm. The Night Hawk snaps right into ordinary boys' cotton briefs. (Girls may prefer to use two pair of cotton panties.)

The Night Hawk is recommended by pediatricians and urologists coast to coast. It comes with a 30-day money-back guarantee, and a 90 day free replacement warranty. It has literally changed the lives of bedwetters from 5 to 20 years of age.

Just a few of many unsolicited testimonials!

Congratulations! You have the bedwetting alarm that works when others fail. It's a smart invention and it deserves the high praise it receives.

Please add my family to your list of satisfied customers! I don't know how your product did it, but it worked as promised. My son is so thrilled to be done with bedwetting and I'm thrilled about not having to wash his bed linens as frequently. Thank you so very much for this amazing product.

– C. Smith

We just wanted to let you know, our fourteen-year old son – God bless you – is finally dry. Your product worked once and for all. There are miracles out there, and yours are for real. Thanks beyond thanks.

– The Ozarks

You have a wonderful and great product! We could see a big difference in the 1st week. It has already paid for itself, when you figure how much I spent on pull ups! Thank you!

– Sherry Coate

Thank you for this wonderful invention – I love it! I am thrilled to tell you we think this product is fantastic. Thank you so much for creating such a common sense product that is helping so many parents struggling to help their children through this problem.
